Free Download Full PC Games Â- jtrappelzbotdownload Where the hell is the rest of that file? A: This looks like a partial list of file types. It has the file type character in each of the first 16 entries. If you look at lines 28-30, you'll see that the file type characters have been explicitly defined. The file type characters above are special characters used to specify the file format. Because of the variety in file type types, the other parts of a file might not always be visible. The file type characters are: 'b' binary file 'c' compressed archive 'd' directory 'l' symbolic link 'f' plain file 'h' hostname 'k' socket (networking) 'p' pathname (used in DOS filename conventions) 's' symbolic link 't' terminal device 'u' undefined 'x' executable 'z' zero-terminated archive Relevant Text: First 16 file type characters (see 'Special file type characters' above). For each of the next 16 lines, the value is followed by the filename or pathname. These characters are used to name the rest of the file. The special characters are: '"' Backquote (') '#' Number sign (#) '&' Ampersand (&) '' Double backquote ('') '+' Plus sign (+) '-' Minus sign (-) '.' Period (.) '*' Star symbol (*) '!' Exclamation point (!) ':' Colon (colon) '"' Single quote (apostrophe) '/' Slash (/) "'" Single apostrophe (left single quote) "\" Single backslash (back single quote) '=' Equal sign 648931e174
